TIS $17.15 — (NYSE AMEX)

Headquartered in Pryor, Oklahoma, Orchids Paper Products manufactures bulk tissue paper, known as parent rolls, and converts parent rolls into a full line of tissue products, including paper towels, bathroom tissue and paper napkins for the private label segment of the consumer, or "at home," market. The Company has focused its product design and manufacturing on the discount retail market, primarily the dollar store retailers, due to their consistent order patterns, limited number of stock keeping units offered and the growth being experienced in this channel of the retail market. Orchids Paper Products Company

Earnings Comment: Although top line results were slightly less than anticipated, a lower tax rate resulted in net income beating our expectations by approximately $0.1 million. However, a higher share count associated with a secondary offering of approximately 0.9 million shares was the primary reason for the lower than expected EPS number.

The company said it began construction on a new warehouse facility at the beginning of October in connection with the start-up of a new converting line expected by the end of the second quarter of 2010. The new converting line has a design capacity of up to 4 million cases per year capable of producing both bathroom tissue and towel products.

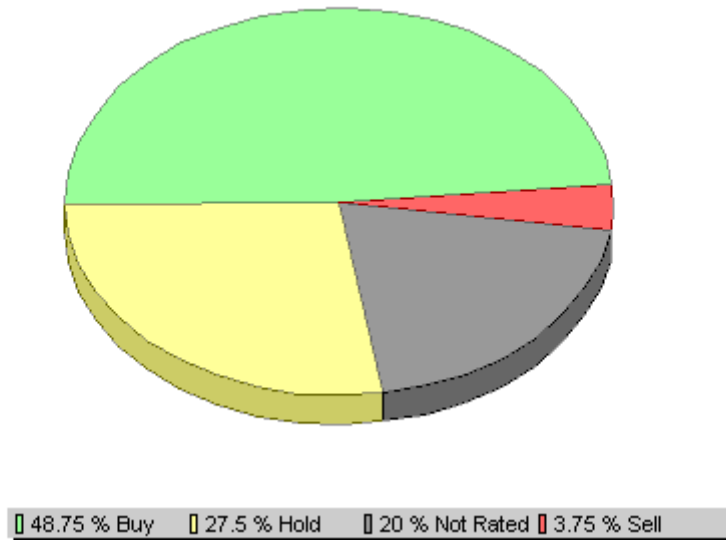

Rating: We are currently maintaining our Buy rating on TIS.

Risks: Please review our latest research report (August 3, 2009) for a summary of the principal risks underlying the stock.

Meaning of Ratings

Buy

We believe the company is undervalued relative to its market and peers. We believe its risk reward ratio strongly advocates purchase of the stock relative to other stocks in the marketplace. Remember, with all equities there is always downside risk.

Speculative Buy

We believe that the long run prospects of the company are positive. We believe its risk reward ratio advocates purchase of the stock. We feel the investment risk is higher than our typical “buy” recommendation. In the short run, the stock may be subject to high volatility and continue to trade at a discount to its market.

Neutral

We will remain neutral pending certain developments.

Underperform

We believe that the company may be fairly valued based on its current status. Upside potential is limited relative to investment risk.

Sell

We believe that the company is significantly overvalued based on its current status. The future of the company's operations may be questionable and there is an extreme level of investment risk relative to reward.

Some notable Risks within the Microcap Market

Stocks in the Microcap segment of the market have many risks that are not as prevalent in Large-cap, Blue Chips or even Small-cap stocks. Often it is these risks that cause Microcap stocks to trade at discounts to their peers. The most common of these risks is liquidity risk, which is typically caused by small trading floats and very low trading volume which can lead to large spreads and high volatility in stock price. In addition, Microcaps tend to have significant company specific risks that contribute to lower valuations. Investors need to be aware of the higher probability of financial default and higher degree of financial distress inherent in the microcap segment of the market.
