Estimate Analysis: Revenues fell short of Taglich Brothers' expectations due to lower revenues from both the entertainment ($2.1 million versus estimated $2.3 million) and hospitality operations ($0.717 million versus estimated $0.738 million). Bottom line results also fell short due to lower than expected revenues and gross margins (13.5% versus estimated 28.7%). SG&A expenses were $95,000 lower than expected.

2Q08 results were adversely impacted by $0.805 million in notable items stemming from hall renovations in Texas, legal expenses, and non-cash compensation expense. These items were offset by a $0.454 million asset sale (catering business). In the aggregate, net notable items for the quarter totaled $0.339 million versus $0.061 million in the year ago period.

Rating: We are maintaining our Speculative Buy rating.

Meaning of Ratings

Buy

We believe the Company is undervalued relative to its market and peers. We believe its risk reward ratio strongly advocates purchase of the stock relative to other stocks in the marketplace. Remember, with all equities there is always downside risk.

Speculative Buy

We believe that the long run prospects of the Company are positive. We believe its risk reward ratio advocates purchase of the stock. We feel the investment risk is higher than our typical “buy” recommendation. In the short run, the stock may be subject to high volatility and continue to trade at a discount to its market.

Neutral

We will remain neutral pending certain developments.

Underperform

We believe that the Company may be fairly valued based on its current status. Upside potential is limited relative to investment risk.

Sell

We believe that the Company is significantly overvalued based on its current status. The future of the Company's operations may be questionable and there is an extreme level of investment risk relative to reward.

Some notable Risks within the Microcap Market

Stocks in the Microcap segment of the market have many risks that are not as prevalent in Large-cap, Blue Chips or even Small-cap stocks. Often it is these risks that cause Microcap stocks to trade at discounts to their peers. The most common of these risks is liquidity risk, which is typically caused by small trading floats and very low trading volume which can lead to large spreads and high volatility in stock price. In addition, Microcaps tend to have significant company specific risks that contribute to lower valuations. Investors need to be aware of the higher probability of financial default and higher degree of financial distress inherent in the microcap segment of the market.
