Highlighting Performance in Research

Investars

Investars is a research ranking service.

Its research and data is used by individual investors, analysts, academics, lawmakers, regulators and the media to track the performance of independent and sell-side research firms for every stock, sector and overall coverage universe. The methodology used to calculate analyst performance is based on Investars' own proprietary algorithm.

For more information about how this algorithm is calculated you can visit the Investars web site at:

<http://www.investars.com/Algorithms-Upload-to-Investars-07-05-07.pdf>.

You can also see the formula on the Taglich Brothers web site at:
